

Report of Studies available for easy download from Web

In the past, the Statistical Center has shipped nearly 800 copies of the Southwest Oncology Group Report of Studies (ROS) to the Group meetings. As the number of trials increased, so did the size of the ROS, making it an unwieldy book to carry and costly to print and ship.

For these reasons, and to make the most up-to-date version of the ROS available for the Group meeting, the printed version of the ROS has been discontinued. Instead, Group meeting attendees will have convenient access to the ROS on the Group Meetings page during the meeting registration period. This way, meeting attendees can print just the pages they need or download them to their laptops or PDAs before leaving for the meeting.

As always, the ROS will continue to be available in its usual place on the Group Web site in the Members section under "Clinical Trials."
